The Anarchists. Is the Constitution of the United States to be stretched out so as to cover the cases of the Chicago Anarchists? Can it be so stretched? Why not if Boxp can stretch it so as to make it enable him to take jurisdiction in such cases as those denominated the Virginia contempt cases? Whilst the Constitutional Convention of 1850 was in session in this city, a proposition was made in that body to extend the jurisdiction of justices of of amendments to the Federal Constiby a number of lawyers that he was ceedingly wary of such games. mistaken, he refused to yield the point until he had heard from DANIEL WEB-STER, who of course told him that he as follows:

"In suits at common law where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved; and no fact trial by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States than according to the rules of the common law."

It will be seen that the language of this amendment would fully justify Boxp in holding that no State court could without a jury try a case involving more than twenty dollars; and that only the last clause of it applied exclusively to the Federal courts. But it is so notorious that the whole article was intended to apply to the Federal courts that few persons have ever seriously promulgated the contrary opin-

But the Anarchists apply to the Supreme Court of the United States under the fourteenth article of Amendmentsan article which, by the way, did not get into the Constitution in the manner prescribed in that instrument itself, but was "ratified," so it was pretended, by nine southern States which at first refused to ratify it. They "ratified" it, of course, under duress, and there-it declares that "every strenuously contested criminal case would under one pretext or another be carried to the Supreme Court of the nation." We conclude, therefore, that the Supreme Court, not wishing to commit suicide, will refuse to entertain the Chicago cases. It will decide that "due process of law" is, so far as those cases are concerned, whatever the Supreme Court of Illinois has decided to be "due process of law." Supposing, however, that it should take this ad litional burthen upon its back, the result will prove that the Government was destroyed by the men who frame! the post-bellum amendments to the Constitution and forced them into that in-

We have already said in the most distinct manner that General MAHONE, Mr. WISE. and the Coalition candidates for the Honse of Delegates were just as firmly opposed as the Democrats to reof the white men. We have contended that this "prejudice" shows itself wherever in the world there are negroes enough amongst the whites to attract the attention of the latter. We have thus endeavored to convince the Richmond negroes that since all Cancasians had this prejudice, they might as well vote the Democratic as the Republican ticket, so far as that one question was concerned. We even went so far as to say that we did not object to the negro's considering him-

A Non-Declining Declination. In the Dispatch of last Friday appeared a letter from Bowling Green, Caroline county, in which it was stated that SMITH J. R. WHITE, who had been Caroline and Hanover Republicans, had declined the nomination, and at present it seemed likely that the Republicans of that district would not make any other nomination. That statement told only half the story, and was calculated to deceive the Democrats and throw them off their guard. While Mr. WEITE declined the formal nomination he is still in the field for all the votes he can get from the Republican or any other party. In other words. Mr. White, though "swearing he would ne'er consent, consented," as will be seen from the following card from him addressed to the Bowling Green conwention:

Gettlemen,—As you have centered on me as a suitable candidate, in which I appreciate your esteem and regard and the confidence you have in me, and if elected through the choice of the voters in the two counties. I am willing to serve you, but must decline to accept the nomination for certain reasons best shown to me. But I am in full faith with the Republican party, and I hereby leave the matter with you to do as you may think best for the party. Respectfully,

SMITH J. R. WHITE.

It charges that $100,000 of campaign funds are unaccounted for and says that an applicant for a postmasterahip was required to pay $1,000 down before he got the office. The letter is as follows:

PETERSBURG, VA., October 10, 1887.
Mr. H. C. Brightmell, Prospect, Va.: Mr. H. C. Brightneil, Prospect, Va.:

My Dear Sir.—Accept my hearty congratulations over the manify stand you have taken for the everthrow of the "one-man power," which has done so much to discupt the Ropabilican party in this State. When the old Republicans of Virginia coalesced with the Readjuster party once of us supposed that one man would or could near the entire organization in his own interest and that the power conferred upon him would be so manipulated as to make that one man supreme dictator of everybody and everything connected with the party.

We loyally supported Mahone as our leader because we believed that it would benefit our party in this State and the country at large, but in the hard school of expresses have been convinced of our great mistake, and now in order to save the party from utter destruction we have determined to overthrow his selfich, tyrannical, and unrepublican leadership. Every Republican, no matter how served the party, is completely ignored, and every effect is made to drive him out of the this one man's imperious will in all party matters.

I could fill a large volume with the record of his deeds showing now he has used the party's power and influence to advance his own personal and political fortunes. Last year he send his famous self-interest treaty of-peace edict, signed as chairman, declaring that Mr. Gaines was the regular nominee for Coogress in this district. A prominent Republican of his city openiy opposed Mr. Gaines's cardidacy, and he did not vote for him on electionary. Thereby, according to Matone's ruling. Thereby, according to Matone's ruling he become a belier and party disarganize. Not long thereafter the State Committee was called to meet at Matone's private restioned, and at his suppression this identical person was elected a member of the State Executive Committee, the highest and most responsible position in the party's councils, although not so regarded under the present autocratic leadership.

regarded under the present autocratic leadership.

s.r. C. C. Clarke for many years was the faithful and efficient secretary of the State committee. At all the State conventions of the Readjuster and Republican parties held during the past eight years he has been recognized as the State Committee's secretary, and a more pelite, industrious, attentive, and competent officer, or worthy party member could not be found. It appears, however, that the chairman became dispicased with him for some private reason, and thereupen he was summarily dismissed and another appointed to the place.

Mahene acts upon the blea that he is the party, and all that is required in order to receive the party's favor is at all times, and under all circumstances, to agree with him in everything, and to be submissive to his arrogant will.

In the disbursement of tals money he has unblushingly usurped not only the collect of secretary and treasurer of the State Commission, but also the right and power vested in the State Executive Committee to handle the same, and he has never rendered an account to the chimittee, or any one, showing what disposition he has made of it. Being the sole customa and disburser of the party's fund, he has always placed it where, in his immaculate ladgment, it would do the most good for the "Mahone party."

In the late civil war he was a major in the Confederate army, and was also elected to a seat in the Congress of the Confederate States. One of the men climbed the tree, and, with considerable difficulty, reached the box. Having stopped up the hole into which the squirrel had crawled, he lowered the box to his companion. When the latter opened it he found the squirrel stretched out dead in a pile of chewed-up bank notes. He called his companion, and together the two men counting their treasure, found that not

Mr. Rowan appeared as counsel for the prosecution, and Mr. Harrington, M. P., for the defence. Mr. Harrington objected to the constitution of the court on the ground that the magistrates lacked special authority from the Viceroy to hold an adjourned court. The objection was overruled.

Mr. Harrington then applied for summons against Magistrate Byrne for assault upon Mr. Blunt. A decision on this point was postponed.

Mr. Byrne was called to the witnesstand. He testified that he warned Mr. Elunt twice on the platform at the meeting on Sunday to desist from speaking, but he went on all the same. THANKSGIVING-DAY.

President Cleveland's Proclamation Naming the 24th of November.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)
Washington, D. C., October 25,— The following proclamation was issued late this afternoon:

A Proclamation-By the President of the United States. The goodness and mercy of God which have followed the American peo-ple during all the days of the past year claim their grateful recognition and humble acknowledgment. By His omnipotent power He has protected us from war and pestilence and from every national calamity; by His gracious favor the earth has yielded a generous return to the labor of the husbandman, and every path of honest toil has led to comfort and contentment; by His lov-ing kindness the hearts of our people have been replenished with fraternal sentiment and patriotic endeavor; and by His unerring guidance we have been directed in the way of national prosperity.

To the end that we may with one accord testify our gratitude for all these blessing, I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 24th day of November, as a day of thenkeging and prayer, to be observed by all the people of the land.

On that day let all secular work and mployment be suspended, and let our scople assemble in their accustomed slaces of worship, and with prayer and songs and praise give thanks to our Heavenly Father for all that He has done for us, while we humbly implore the forgiveness of our sins and the con-tinuance of His mercy. Let families and kindred be reunited on that day and let their hearts be filled with kindly cheer, and affectionate reminiscence be turned in thankfulness to the source of all their pleasure, and the Giver of All that makes the day glad and joyous.

And in the midst of our worship and our happiness let us remember the poor, needy and unfortunate, and by our gifts of charity and ready benevolence let us increase the number of those who with grateful hearts shall join in our thanksgiving.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and caused the scal of the United States to be hereunto affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 25th day of October, in the year of our Lord 1887, and of the Indepen-dence of the United States the 112th. GROVER CLEVELAND.
